REGISTRATION SERVICE

Inside this guide you will find information on a wide range of wedding services and venues, to help to make your wedding day the most unique and memorable day of your life.

Before booking your chosen venue, you will need to book your ceremony. Our staff will help to tailor the ceremony to your requirements.

To help you plan your ceremony you will be able to download the Choices Booklet containing a selection of promises and readings you can include in your ceremony. You can also access these on your phone or tablet device via the myStaffs App, simply download from the Play or App store and click on the 'Weddings' tile.

THE ceremony

Immediately before the ceremony the Registrar will meet with you both in private, (you can be seen separately if you prefer and request so in advance) to establish the details to be recorded in the marriage or civil partnership register.

Civil marriages and civil partnerships are conducted in English. However, if either of the parties is unable to speak or understand English an interpreter must be present. We can discuss your requirements when you book your ceremony.

If you have hearing problems, you may need to have an interpreter or lip speaker at the ceremony. The registrar will be able to provide more information when you book your ceremony.

CIVIL partnership

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

To have a civil partnership you must both be of the same sex, not already be in a civil partnership or marriage, be 16 years of age or older, and not be related.

In England and Wales, individuals who are aged 16 and 17 will have to obtain the written consent of their parents (or legal guardians) before registering a civil partnership.

WHAT HAPPENS AT A CIVIL PARTNERSHIP REGISTRATION?

A civil partnership will be registered once the couple have signed the civil partnership document in the presence of a Registrar and two witnesses.

CAN WE HAVE A CEREMONY?

Yes, you will be able to arrange a ceremony in addition to the signing of the legal documentation if you wish, but a ceremony is not required under the Act. It is up to you to decide. A ceremony can include readings and promises of your own choice. The ceremony can be held at any Registration Office or the venues listed at the back of the brochure.

CAN WE CHANGE OUR NAMES AFTER REGISTERING A CIVIL PARTNERSHIP?

After registering a civil partnership, some people might want to change their surname to that of their partner. Government departments and agencies such as the Passport Agency and the DVLA will accept civil partnership certificates in the same way that they accept marriage certificates as evidence for changing names.

SAME SEX marriage

CIVIL PARTNERSHIP CONVERSIONS

Following the implementation of the marriage (same sex couples) act 2013, many couples who have entered into a civil partnership have chosen to convert their civil partnership into a marriage. The conversion can take place in Staffordshire, even if the civil partnership took place in another area provided this was within England or Wales. Once the civil partnership is converted into a marriage the civil partnership ends and the couple are treated as having been married since the date the civil partnership was formed. Conversions have been available since December 2014 and couples have the option of a standard procedure, or two stage procedure.

The standard procedure is for you both to attend an appointment at your local Registration Office where you will need to bring a copy of your civil partnership certificate and evidence of your name, date of birth and address. You will both then sign the declaration converting your civil partnership into a marriage along with the Superintendent Registrar at the appointment.

TWO STAGE PROCEDURE

You will have to attend a Registration Office to provide the information in stage one as detailed above. The second stage is where you and the Registrar sign the declaration at either a Registration Office, approved premise or religious building registered for the marriage of same sex couples. You may wish to complete stage two as part of a ceremony, as you are able to sign the declaration in the same venue. Please note that stage one will need to be completed at your local Registration Office, prior to your ceremony taking place.

GIVING notice

Both

oth you and your partner are required to give separate notices of marriage at a cost of £35 each. The earliest you can give notice is 12 months prior to the date of the marriage or civil partnership.

You must both have lived in any district in England or Wales for seven full days immediately before the date you give notice of your marriage or civil partnership. It does not matter if either of you move to a different address once you have given notice.

If you live outside the county you must give notice at the Registration Office in the district where you have lived for seven full days immediately prior to you giving notice.

If you live in Staffordshire, you must make arrangements with the office where you intend to marry to book the time and location. You then need to give notice at one of the Staffordshire offices listed on pages 20-23.

If you are giving notice in Staffordshire you can visit any of our offices. Please call 0300 111 8001 to make an appointment.

ou and your partner need to give notice at least 28 days before the date of your ceremony.

IF YOU ARE NOT A BRITISH CITIZEN

It may be necessary for you to attend an office which is called a Designated Register Office to give notice and the Registration Service can give advice on this.

DOCUMENTS YOU NEED TO SHOW US

When you give notice of your marriage or civil partnership, you need to be able to prove your identity.

Passports are ideal for this purpose. If you do not hold or cannot produce a passport, we will accept birth certificates as proof of identity.

If you are using your birth certificate as proof of identity, and you were born after January 1983 we will need to see the full copy of your birth certificate and your mother's birth certificate.

It is also necessary to provide information proving residency. A bank statement (dated within the last month) a valid Driving Licence or a utility bill (dated within 3 months) confirming your address or most recent council tax bill.

If either of you have been married or had a civil partnership before, either in this country or abroad you will be required to provide evidence of the termination of the marriage or civil partnership by death, divorce or nullity. If your divorce papers have not been issued in England or Wales we will need to see the original divorce document and also a translation. There may also be a delay in issuing the authority for marriage.

If either of you are under 18, we require to see proof that your parents (or legal guardians) agree to the marriage or civil partnership. If your parents are divorced, we may need to see the court order that gives custody to one of them. The Registrar can advise you on this matter.

HOW TO ARRANGE A RELIGIOUS CEREMONY

Church Of England

When you have set the date, make an appointment to see the incumbent of the church you intend to marry in.

C of E clergy are authorised Registrars so there is no need to give notice at the Register Office. Banns are read in each parish on three Sundays before the wedding to announce your intention to marry.

Roman Catholic

If you wish to marry in a Catholic Church, you need to speak to the parish priest to make arrangements but a notice of marriage must be given at your local register office.

Other Religious Denominations

Marriages which are conducted according to the rite of other religious denominations also require a notice of marriage to be given to the Registrar. If the priest/minister is not authorised to solemnise marriages, a charge will be made for the Registrar to attend of £84.00 which includes your marriage certificate.

TO ARRANGE A CEREMONY
please phone

WEDDINGS abroad

If you wish to marry abroad, you must ensure that you find out and follow the regulations according to the laws of that country. To marry in another country there are minimum residency requirements and this will be built into the overall length of your stay. Most countries will need to see certain documents. The embassy of the country where you wish to be married should be contacted for first hand information.

In some cases you will be asked for a certificate of no impediment. This can be obtained by giving notice to your local Registration Office and you will need to wait up to 28 clear days before the certificate of no impediment can be issued.

Although there is no expiry date printed on these certificates, different countries have their own rules and the certificate may only be valid for a three month period from the date of giving notice.

Whilst legally recognised, marriages of British subjects in a foreign country cannot be registered in England unless one of the couple is a serving member of or attached to the British Armed Forces at the time of marriage.

However, where this is not the case, there is provision for a record of the marriage to be lodged with the General Register Office (Telephone 0300 123 1837).

There is no time limit but only original documents may be lodged and only the British Consul for the district where the marriage took place may send the documents to the General Register Office. This only applies to certain countries, and where it is possible, a fee is charged for this.

Where documents have been placed with the General Register Office, marriage certificates will be able to be obtained from them at some time in the future.

A full list of these countries may be viewed on www.fco.gov.uk.

CHANGES TO YOUR PASSPORT

If you wish to change the name on your passport for use immediately after the ceremony, the Passport Office will either issue a new standard UK passport which will be valid from the date of the wedding or alternatively will amend your existing passport to show your future married name. Neither of these will be issued more than three months prior to the marriage ceremony/civil partnership.

Application forms can be obtained from the Post Office or downloaded from the Passport Agency. Once the civil partnership or marriage preliminaries have been completed, the forms can be filled in by the applicant and the Minister of Religion or Registrar who is to celebrate the marriage. The form should then be sent to the Passport Office together with the application for the passport or amendment to the passport.

If you are going abroad on a honeymoon, remember to book air tickets etc. in the name you will have in your passport at the time of travelling.

RENEWAL OF marriage vows

SAY 'I DO'... AGAIN

This ceremony is for any married or civil partnership couple that wish to celebrate renewing their vows in a unique and personal ceremony.

Often these ceremonies are associated with a special wedding anniversary, such as the tenth, twenty-fifth, fortieth, etc, but the ceremony is just as appropriate for couples at any stage of marriage or civil partnership.

0300 111 8001

RE-REGISTRATION & naming ceremonies

child's birth will need to be re-registered if the parents have entered into a marriage or civil partnership with each other since the birth. At this time, a new birth record will be created showing the child as a child of the parents' marriage or civil partnership, replacing the original registration and all future copy birth certificates will be issued from this new record.

To complete the re-registration, both parents need to fill in a form LA1 which can be obtained from any Register Office. Once you have both completed and signed the form, you need to send it to the Register Office where you would like to have the re-registration appointment, together with the child's birth certificate and your marriage/civil partnership certificate. If you have more than one child, you will need to complete an LA1 form for each child.

Only one parent needs to attend the re-registration appointment (although both are welcome) and there is no charge for this service. The only cost that you will incur is if you wish to purchase a new, full birth certificate for your child which you will need for many official purposes, such as passport applications.

NAMING CEREMONIES

When families are celebrating the birth of a new baby a Naming Ceremony is an opportunity to welcome your child into the family or to celebrate the joining of a new family.

There are a wide selection of poems, readings and promises that can be included in the ceremony and read by the celebrant or family and friends.

There are unique promises you can make to your child and supporting adults, chosen from friends and family, can also be included within the ceremony.
